

Our Mineral Resources.

Now that the theory of isolation may be considered as abandoned, very wisely, by the Mormon authorities, for one more enlightened, and the conclusion seems to have been forced upon them, not without much resistance, that "what can't be cured must be endured," we may be allowed to take a more minute survey of the ore, whose advent has been so much dreaded and see if there really is anything so very terrible in it after all.

That the discovery and development of mines of precious metals in the Territory has always been discouraged by those in authority is a fact well known. The belief has nevertheless been universally entertained, that such mines existed throughout Utah and, as the silver discoveries extended eastward from the base of the Sierra Nevada, practiced eyes became more thoroughly satisfied that explorations would richly reward the adventurer.

However, at the time this command entered the Territory, owing to the cause alluded to above, no discoveries of the kind had been made or, if made, had been kept carefully concealed from the public eye, and from Austin to Denver the whole region was a terra incognita, so far as minerals were concerned. Every locality, we believe, where mines of value are now known to exist between the points named, has been found by soldiers, and to them must be ascribed whatever credit is due for the opening of new sources of wealth in Utah for themselves, the people of the Territory and the Nation. Casual explorations, incidental to the military service, have demonstrated the existence of rich gold, silver, copper and other mines in nearly every part of the Territory.

The first discovery was made two years ago at Egan Cañon, on the western boundary of Utah, whence silver in considerable quantities is already being exported. In the vicinity of Antelope Springs, about fifty miles this side, more valuable ledges have been found, while at Deep Creek, some thirty miles further eastward, is a mineral district, which we know, from personal observation, to include lodes of ore equal to the very best we have ever examined. The next discovery of importance is in West Mountain, within twenty miles of Salt Lake City, and here the veins are so numerous and so prolific in minerals, wherever the district has been explored, as to astonish all who have had the opportunity to examine them, and give some foundation for the belief entertained by the enthusiastic, that the whole mountain is little less than an immense mass of lead, copper and silver ores.

On the opposite side of the valley, eastward, in the cañons leading to the summit of the Wasatch range, mammoth leads of copper have been found, from which the metal can be smelted without difficulty, and the value of which, in any other part of the world, would be beyond computation.

The mines mentioned, are all on the Overland stage road, south of which the same profusion of mineral wealth has been found, to exist to an extent almost beyond belief, including many classes of ores and metals even, with the nature and value of which we have found none who were acquainted. It is the effort to develop this fruitful source of wealth, which has called forth the bitter denunciations and stubborn resistance, with which we have had to contend at the hands of Church authorities. It has doubtless retarded, but could not prevent, the final success of the effort, and henceforth it may be considered certain, that no interference will be attempted to prevent the result. Hereafter, we think, the adventurous miner may pursue his calling in Utah without reference to its effect upon local institutions or, however it may interfere with the plans of men, who have no right to exclude him from the public domain either by direct or indirect means.

That the result will be of incalculable benefit in bringing immediate prosperity to the people of Utah, in every branch of industry, no one can question. While thousands will find wealth in mining, agricultural pursuits cannot fail to feel the impulse, and, wherever the valleys invite cultivation throughout these vast mineral regions, will be an enduring source of wealth to those who till the soil. Instead of causing a famine, as has been claimed would be the case here, the development of our mineral resources will have the effect to bring every available spot under cultivation and make these productive valleys more widely fruitful.

The newspaper war still rages in Colorado with unabated virulence. Very uncomplimentary language is bandied about between the editorial fraternity with all the relish of honest wrath.

The lie is tossed from one to the other with perfect licence and the assertion demonstrated too, entirely to the satisfaction of the community—we doubt not.

PRINCE OF WALES.—English papers say that the story is current that the Prince of Wales finds his present State allowance, $200,000, insufficient to maintain the dignity of his position.

GOLD IN CONNECTICUT.—Dr. Keith a well known mineralogist and the owner of a tract of land in Greenwich, Conn., has discovered upon it a gold vein. One piece extracted therefrom was valued at $600.

SPRINKLING STREETS.—The New Yorkers think that sprinkling the Streets with Salt to melt the snow is productive of diphtheria, and its use has been prohibited.

THEY have been raising troops for three months service in Colorado for the coming Indian campaign and each soldier is presented with his horse, arms and equipments by the way of bounty.

BEN Holladay has obtained the right to build a wagon road from Denver to Middle Park, by the way of Boulder creek, and thence westward to Salt Lake City.

At a grand Masonic Fair held at Central City, Col., the net receipts amounted to five thousand dollars.

PETROLEUM IN THE OLD WORLD.—It takes the Yankees! A Paris letter to the New York Times says:

"The wonders of the petroleum oil discovery will never cease. Last year Col. Gowen, of Boston, the gentleman who had the contract of getting up the sunken Russian ships in the harbor of Sebastopol, was coming down from St. Petersburg, through Georgia and Circassia, when, in the neighborhood of the Sea of Azof, he stumbled upon some oil wells which the natives were working in a very different way, and which the Colonel bought. He then came to Paris and London, organized a company, sent out men to work the wells, and ships to carry to London and Liverpool the products, and they are now paying hand some dividends.

But what is more surprising still, the Colonel, in returning lately from the Black Sea to Paris, stopped on the way at the Island of Samos, on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean, where he found and bought another oil well. What is still more curious, this well was spoken of by Herodotus, the great Greek historian, 550 years before Christ, and from that day to this no one has thought of turning to use this important discovery. Even the English traders of these latter days, who have control of the commerce of the Island, have blindly walked over this important source of wealth without perceiving it. Colonel Gowen has bought fifteen acres of ground at the ordinary price of land on the Island.

An Address to the People, by a Resident of Utah.

ARTICLE I.

INTRODUCTORY.

Fellow Citizens:—Inasmuch as free discussion upon all topics, whether political, social or moral, is freely tolerated by the Government to which we owe undoubted allegiance, I purpose, in a series of articles and in as brief and concise a manner as possible, consistent with the importance of the subject and the truths to be enunciated, to lay before you a history of some events that have transpired in this Territory, and elucidate some of my views thereon.

Believing that no subject is too sacred to be investigated; that there is much in connection with the past history of the Church in Utah that is concealed from the public view, much that the public must know ere they can arrive at just conclusions concerning the innocence or guilt of the leaders of the church in relation to the charges, alleged against them; that many of the lay members of the church have been unconsciously deprived of their inherent rights as citizens of the United States; that aliens to the common weal of our much loved country have usurped privileges exclusively the heritage of her patriotic sons, and that foreigners, inimical to the interests of our prosperous nationality, have lent their willing aid to subvert the plans of the combined wisdom of the nation, and openly, wantonly and boastfully, broken the laws of the nation; believing all this and much more with respect to the disloyalty of the Mormon fraternity, under its Utah leaders, I consider it due the public that in stating this belief, I should also bring before their notice the facts in my possession, that they also may have access to the data on which that belief is founded.

It will also be my duty, however sorrowful the task, to produce evidence that shall either substantiate or disprove the charge of disloyalty; to give a general idea of their system of finance; to make some reference to their endowment; to examine the charge of their preferred against them; to give a general history of the rise and progress of the factions of Gladden Bishop and Joseph Morris, and to enter into some of the details connected with the war waged against the latter party, the causes that led thereto and subsequent events connected therewith; to investigate the doctrine of polygamy, and to produce some evidence in relation to the numerous murders committed in the Territory.

That wrongs, grievous and irreparable wrongs have been perpetrated, no man acquainted with the past sad history of Utah, and possessing in the smallest degree the attribute of justice, will pretend to deny. There is, however, a difference of opinion as to where and with whom these wrongs originated. The investigation here proposed, is intended to furnish some evidence from which a correct opinion can be formed, and such data as will justify us in arriving at definite conclusions.

That such an investigation has not before been made, is attributable to the want, long felt, of a liberal organ in which articles considered, by Utah Church dignitaries, unorthodox could be published, and all articles animadverting upon them or their system of discipline, would, doubtless, be so considered. That want is now supplied in the publication of the Daily Union Vedette, to the courtesy of whose proprietor I tender my acknowledgment of indebtedness for the publication of this address.

Without further preliminary remarks, I will now enter into the investigation proposed; and in order to ascertain the correctness of the charges so frequently preferred against the people of Utah, proceed to examine the historical grounds on which they are based. History, than which no more truthful witness can be found, must confirm the guilt of the parties accused, or establish their innocence. Its evidence must be received as conclusive.

Following the rule here given, it now becomes my duty to produce the evidence that shall justify us in either sustaining or repudiating the grave charges alleged against the parties accused, and as I purpose treating consecutively of the subjects named in the third paragraph of my "Introductory," I shall first treat of "Mormon Disloyalty."

COTTON CAPTURED BY SHERMAN.—The Newburyport Herald calculates that the amount of cotton captured by Sherman, at Savannah, would supply all the factories in Newburyport, running all their works, for five years.

THE alarm, police and signal circuits at San Francisco are now complete.

ANGELS IN PETTICOATS.—A correspondent of the Portland Transcript says: "I have recently gin up all idea of the woman folks and come back to perditional life. I am more at home in this line than in huntin' the fair sects. Aingills in petticoats and 'kiss me quicks' is pretty to look at, I gin in; but darn 'em, they are as slippery as eels, whed you fish for 'em and get a bite you find yourself at the wrong end of the line, they've caught you; and when you've stuffed them with peanuts and candy and dogger types, they will throw you away as they would a cold potatoe. Leastwise that's bin my experience. But I've done with 'em now. The Queen of Sheber, the sleepin' beauty, Kleopatry's needle, Pompey's Pillar, and Lot's wife, with a steam engine th hold 'em, couldn't tempt me. The very sight of a bonnet riles me all over."

DON'T KNOW WHAT WAR IS.—Blackwood's Magazine says, Prussia is greatly elated over the success of the war with Denmark for the Duchies, but thinks, after all its surmising of having more victories and immortal glory, it has only demonstrated ignorance of what war is. During the war with Denmark, it managed to lose 3,000 men—not enough to furnish a single morning's amusement to Grant and Lee. Compared with war in America, the Prussia, Austria and Denmark affairs appear very tame to the Blackwood writer.

EXTREME DELICACY.—A young lady recently entered the shop of a fashionable millinery, with whom her family were acquainted, for the purpose of making some trifling purchase. "How is your mother miss?" politely inquired the lady. "She is not very well," replied affectionate. "Ah! what is the matter with her?" She fell down stairs and hurt her curtsy-bender. "Cursey-bender! what is that?" inquired the puzzled milliner. "Why her knee!" replied the blushing damsel.

NEW YORK.—The Comptroller of the State of New York says, the expenses of the State, on account of the war has been over fourteen millions of dollars. He thinks that nearly half the sum has been practically wasted, particularly the sum expended in bounties since 1862.

THE Toronto Le der has made the brilliant discovery that the Yankee is not a person of much endurance and, while not exactly a coward, won't fight to hurt. It says: "We lay down this proposition, that met and confronted in an aggressive war, he is impotent for mischief."

THE 4TH OF MARCH, 1865.—This day was celebrated throughout the entire loyal country.

THERE are at present fifty pupils in the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum, at San Francisco.

MOST of the shadows that cross our path through life are caused by standing in our own light.

COAL OIL.—The San Jose (Cal.) Courier, of Feb. 28th, says: Burdick, express agent of this place, showed us yesterday a bottle of coal oil which was obtained from a tunnel about one mile from Spanish Town, situated some four miles west of San Mateo. The oil had the appearance of diluted tar, and burned readily on the application of a match. We have no doubt a good article of oil for light might be obtained by rectifying this article, as it appeared to possess sufficient inflammable properties for the purpose. Mr. Burdick informs us that it flows in considerable quantities, and if it proves as good as appearances indicate it will be a very valuable discovery.

How does a pitcher of water differ from a man throwing his wife off a bridge? One is water in the pitcher, and the other pitcher in the water.

THEY DON'T LIKE INVESTIGATION.—The United States Christian Commission has recently proposed to the rebel authorities to send Bishops McIlvaine, O. Jayne and Lee, and Horatio Jones, of Philadelphia, to visit all the rebel prisons and ascertain the condition of Union prisoners. Gen. Grant forwarded the application to Gen. Lee, with his approval endorsed, and giving permission for an equal number of clergymen and other civilians from the South to visit the military prisons in the North on a like errand. These visits, Gen. Grant added, would do much to relieve anxiety in the public mind on both sides, caused by exaggerations or misrepresentations as to the treatment of prisoners. A reply was received from the rebel government, through Commissioner Ould, declining to permit the visits of the Bishops as "inexpedient."

MARTIAL DAMES.—The prevailing modes for ladies were never so bizarre and brilliant as now; and the sudden irruption of crimson, yellow, blue, green and scarlet, gold braid and buttons, can only be traced to the effect of the prevailing spirit of the country. Our gay zouave and chasseur uniforms have produced a sort of contagious fever for bright colors and singular patterns, which has at once seized upon the sex with which dress is an important consideration. And this military origin of the fashion further shows itself in the actual insignia of the soldier, which are complementarily adopted by the ladies. Chevrons, army buttons, corps badges, &c., are now a standard portion of the modiste's wares; and if the rage continues, we may expect to see our wives and daughters actually wearing swords and carrying cartridge boxes.—New York Review.

MISSOURI gave a small "Radical" majority in 1862, when most of the States went "Conservative." President Lincoln justly pronounced her vote for Liberty and Loyalty a fair offset for the lamentable defection of New York. In 1863, her verdict was equivocal, owing to the concentration of nearly all power, military as well as civil, in the hands of her "Conservatives." But the progress of events, the death of Gov. Gamble, the removal of Schofield, and, above all, the late invasion by Price, have completed her education, and she is to-day, after Kansas, probably the most radically anti-Slavery State in the Union.—S. F. Flag.

A MAN applied to Dr. Jackson, the celebrated chemist, with a box of specimens. "Can you tell me what this is, sir?" "Certainly I can, sir; that is iron pyrites." "What, sir?" in a voice of thunder. "Iron pyrites." "Iron pyrites! and what's that?" "That's what it is," said the chemist, putting a lot on his shovel of hot coals, where it disappeared. "Dross." "And what is iron pyrites worth?" "Nothing." "Nothing! Why, there's a woman in our town who owns a whole hill of that—and I've married her!"

As the new Constitution of Missouri is not to be submitted to the people, but is to go into effect immediately, the abolition of slavery in the State (decreed by the State Convention a few days ago) is already complete.

Local Matters.

LECTURE THIS EVENING.—One of the finest National and intellectual entertainments will be given at the Camp Theater this evening, that the officers and soldiers at this post have ever been afforded. Rev. Norman McLeod is to deliver a lecture on the affairs of our Nation, and a cordial invitation is extended to all. There is no one subject which should more interest patriots than the above, and when expounded by so able, sincere and patriotic a speaker as the one named for this evening, it should certainly crowd our little theater to its utmost capacity. We hope to see the noble effort rewarded with a large, appreciative and intelligent audience.

THE United States, Gem and Young America Saloons are going it with a rush these days. The cocktails, punches, etc., mixed at these places are sure to make a man feel "sleight-u-ally elevated," and perhaps a little "mixed in his upper story." These saloons all have the name of being a pleasant resort, and the several proprietors and assistants are always agreeable and attentive.

EVERYTHING was frozen solid yesterday morning. The weather was clear and stinging cold. During the day the sun shone in all its brilliancy and managed to produce a thawing of the snow.

In the language of somebody, we don't "zactly" know who, we would ask "will this wintry weather ever let up?" We shudder for a reply.

We refer our readers to the introductory address, published in another part of our paper to day. It is but the commencement of a series to be inserted regularly. They will be found interesting to all, as the several subjects are ably handled and proceed from an authentic source—a long resident of Utah.

WALKER BROS., Gilbert & Sons, Ranssaff & Co and Bodenburg & Kahn have large and well selected assortments of goods of every description, such as usually found in wholesale and retail houses.

GURNEY & Co's. twenty five dollar sewed boots are the ne plus ultra of fine boots—they can't be beat in Utah. His coarse boots and shoes are of an excellent quality and manufacture.

MEEK'S new stock of Jewelry is dazzling. A good watch, brooch or anything else in the jewelry line can be bought cheap, and purchasers can rely upon a genuine article.

The dwelling of Mr. Willard in the city was destroyed by fire on Monday and the little daughter of Mr. Papworth, lying sick in the house, was burned to death.

McFARLAND'S reputation for keeping the best wines and liquors stands at par. His stock comprises none but the best.

Mr. Rumfield, Agent of the Western Stage Line, has returned from his trip to California.

THE City Restaurant is a pleasant place to go and get a "square meal."

MESSRS ELLIN & BROS. stock of Groceries is the best in town.

IDAHO.—The Idaho gold deposited in the San Francisco Mint last year was worth about three millions, four hundred thousand dollars.

A "MEETING BY MOONLIGHT"—Two young men, named Hall and Warnock, fell out at Grass Valley about an affair of the heart. Hall challenged Warnock and a farcical duel was got up by the seconds, in which it was arranged that the pistols were not to be loaded with lead. Warnock was in the secret, but Hall was not. The fight came off by moonlight near the graveyard on the 10th inst. After three rounds the principals were prevailed to shake hands and all that, and so the "bloody" affair ended.

THEY have had quite a flood at Egan Canyon.

NO PASSPORTS FOR SCHOOL GIRLS. Some of the pupils in a school in this city are residents of Windsor (C. W.) They have been stopped at the ferry, with their teacher, under the present passport order. An application being made to Secretary Seward, through Alfred Russell, United States District Attorney, it has been decided that "Mrs. James and her young misses, pupils, are not 'travelers' in the meaning of the passport regulations, and need not be required to provide themselves with passports." So that our Government does not lay any obstacles in the way of Canadian girls coming over and obtaining an education in American schools.—Detroit Tribune.

MRS. MARGARET DOUGLAS, the Australian pedestrian, has completed the task of walking one thousand miles in one thousand hours at the American Opera House, at Liverpool. Each successive mile has been witnessed by persons who have attested its fair performance. During her last mile, which she walked in the presence of several hundred persons, she several times stopped to dance; and at the close she declared she could have walked two hundred miles more, and would be willing to undertake fourteen hundred.

THE CLIMAX.—A clergyman in Wisconsin, one Sunday, informed his hearers that he should divide his discourse into three parts: The first should be terrible, the second horrible, and the third should be terrible horrible. Assuming a dramatic tragic attitude, he exclaimed, in a startling agonizing tone—"What is that I see there?" Here a little old woman in black cried out, with a shrill treble tone—"It's nothing but my little black dog; he won't bite anybody."

THE wife of the late General Lander, favorably known to the people of this country as Miss Davenport, the actress, began a theatrical engagement in New York last month. Miss Davenport left the stage at the time of her marriage, and we believe has not since appeared in public. She has proved herself more than ever worthy of public favor by her faithful and self-sacrificing labors for the past year or two as a volunteer nurse in the Port Royal military hospitals.

THE "angust image" known as the winking Madonna of Tivoli, has been replaced on its original altar in the Tivoli Cathedral with religious ceremonies lasting seven days.

A gentleman, complaining of the income tax, says he cannot put on his boots in the morning without a stamp.

"PARENTS," said a solemn lecturer, "you have children; or, if you have not, your daughters may have."

THERE is a great deal of dying for love now-a-days, but it is generally dying of whiskers.
